

Jane Landers

Candidate for Board Finance, New Fairfield

Jane is currently on the New Fairfield Board of Finance.

Jane Landers is an attorney and a current member of the Board of Finance, where she has served for more than 12 years. Jane has also served as Chairman of the New Fairfield Board of Education.

Jane and her husband, James Lalime, have lived in New Fairfield for 22 years. She has five children, three of whom attended and graduated from the New Fairfield Public Schools.

Jane earned a Juris Doctor degree from Northeastern University School of Law. Jane practiced general law and is particularly proud of her pro bono work with battered women. Jane also taught Contract and Business Law at Rhode Island College.

Jane is also a writer and has co-written six musicals, including “The Count of Monte Cristo” and “Percy Penguin Comes to America,” a children’s musical about global warming.

Jane is proud of her collaborative work on the Board of Finance, helping to keep our town affordable and fiscally sound, without compromising our excellent community services and educational system.

Jane understands the importance of commitment to the Board of Finance and its important role in serving all the citizens of New Fairfield.

If elected, Jane pledges to:

- Continue to ensure sound budgets that keep New Fairfield affordable while maintaining excellent services.
- Work collaboratively with fellow board members, the Board of Selectman and the Board of Education.
- Continue to find innovative and creative approaches to, and economies of scale in, creating budgets that meet the needs of all New Fairfield residents.

“I will continue to help to effectively manage town budgets so that New Fairfield can maintain the low tax increases our board has delivered year after year. At the same time, I will continue to ensure that we properly finance the varied town services and educational system to maintain the excellent quality of life New Fairfield affords. I have always kept my focus on the fact that we must keep our town affordable for Senior Citizens and growing families alike.”
